

Metro
13th October 2015

■ IN THE DOG HOUSE: It may sound barking, but if you want to have your pet pooch with you in rented accommodation you'll struggle to find suitable housing in London, according to lettings specialists EJ Harris, which has seen a huge rise in demand for dog-friendly lets. Some in central London are putting down deposits of up to £25,000 to secure rental properties, as the number of dog-owners has soared from two per cent five years ago to more than 20 per cent this year.

www.ejharris.co.uk